Moodes wreern AND METROPOLITAN THEATRE,

The above title has been adopted for the situation hereto-fore known as the Banvard Opera House and New York Mu-seum, co-ering an area of about one hundred feet fronting on Broadway, by two hundred feet the depth, now under pro-cess of thorough reconstruction for the purpose of a Mu-seum and Theatre, and will be in readiness for the reception of the public on or before September 1, 1858, at a contem-plated outlay of $100,000 to $180,000.

The invaluable influence of the renowned P. T. BARNUM, Lagfor the advancement of the Museum Bepartment has been secured, as is evidenced by the following correspondence:—

NEW YOUR, MARCH 31, 1663. secured, as is evidenced by the following correspondence:

P. T. BARNUM, Esq.:

DEAR SIR—In our interview yeaterday you expressed yourself to the effect that you were reluctant to re-establish a Museum, whereby you would be required to devote your und i ided personal attention to its management; but, nevertheless, you evinced the warmest interest in the re-establishment of an institution of the kind worthy of the great metropolis of our country, and intimated your willingness to advance its interest by your influence and inestimable advice. Therefore, after due deliceration, 1 herewith beg to submit the following proposition for your serious consideration. * Hoplog for a reply previous to the departure of my associate, Mr. Samuel Colwile, who leaves for Europe by the steamer of April, 5, for the purpose of making collections for the Museum department, I have the honor to remain, truly yours, GEO. WOOD.

468 FIFTM AVENUE, April 2, 1898.

Days Sir.—Your letter and proposition of March 31 is re-mation as I can command by correspondence with nearly every portion of the world on subjects connected with your enterprise.

With such letters and information as I will give Mr. Samuel Colvilie, he can proceed to the principal cities of Europe, and, by drawing largely upon the government unusums and public institutions of the Old World, as well as by purchasing private collections of Natural History, Science and Art, you can, within four or five months, become the possessor of a museum containing immensely more of the elements of instruction and solid gratification than anything of the kind ever witnessed upon this continent.

Every mail brings me numerous letters from home and abroad in regard to "museum curlosities," and you may, if desirable, announce that I will hereafter on your behalf respond to all such communications, and will blind myself to have no interest in any other museum or place of amusement in this city except in connection with yourself; so long as you are interested in any institution of the kind in New York. In conformity with the above, Messra. Wood & Colville

In conformity with the above, Messra. Wood & Colville espectfully solicit communications on the subject of Curiosites, natural and scientific, either for sale or for hire. Address P. T. Barnum or George Wood Wood's Museum, corner of Thirtieth street and Broadway, New York, or up to June 1, 1888, Samuel Colville, Tavestock Hotel, Covent Garden, London.

Mew York, or up to June 1, 1988, Samuel Colville, Tavestock Hotel, Coren Garden, London.
